

2-DAY Trauma Treatment Certification Course

Like you, I've dealt with some major obstacles to providing effective trauma treatment during my career. How do I make the best use of the growing body of neuroscience research? How can I cut through the clutter of all the possible factors contributing to the trauma and get a clear picture of the issues to address in therapy? How can I tailor my approach to meet the unique needs of each survivor? I looked for a solution, and discovered it in an integration of neuroscience, physiology, the three stages of trauma recovery, smaller ingredients taken from larger evidence-based models, and customizable treatment strategies that addressed unique needs of trauma survivors and their families.

This 2-day certification course presents this integrated and customizable approach to trauma treatment in a manner that is easy to follow and readily adaptable to a variety of settings. You will discover how to use this integrated model as a foundation upon which you can then tailor and apply treatment approaches with which you are already familiar but until now seemed rigid and inflexible. You will be able to move beyond the standard script often given for when and how to apply various strategies, allowing you to focus much more intently on where the trouble spots are in each survivor's life and what actions to take to resolve them. You will get a road map that will help you to guide each survivor through all the stages in the trauma recovery process.

Join me for this exciting, innovative, and evidence-informed training. Leave invigorated, with a new plan of action for how to use standard models and strategies in new ways to facilitate meaningful and lasting trauma recovery.

In addition, completion of this two-day course meets the educational requirements when applying to become a Certified Clinical Trauma Professional (International Association of Trauma Professionals, www.traumapro.net).

Target Audience

Counselors • Social Workers • Psychologists • Case Managers • Psychotherapists
Addiction Counselors • Marriage and Family Therapists • Educators • Nurses
Other Mental Health Professionals

Speaker

ROBERT LUSK, PhD, has devoted his career to working with trauma survivors and their families, and providing training and consultation to parents, military families, and professionals on trauma-related issues, parenting special needs children, attachment disorders, psychotropic medications, reintegration after deployment, and psychiatric disorders. For the past 26 years, Dr. Lusk has served as clinical director at The Baby Fold. There, he designs and implements new programs, and provides clinical supervision, consultation and oversight to all the agency's treatment programs.

Dr. Lusk completed a full-time internship at the Brentwood Veterans Administration Medical Center in Los Angeles, where he focused on PTSD treatment for combat veterans. He has continued to provide supervision, training, and treatment for veterans and other adult trauma survivors for the past 30 years.

Dr. Lusk also instructs courses at Illinois Wesleyan University and has been actively involved in investigative research on trauma for over 30 years, including studies of treatment approach efficacy and cognitive and school-related effects of trauma. He has published several journal articles and book chapters on understanding and treating trauma.

Dr. Lusk earned his Master's and Doctoral degrees in clinical psychology from the University of California at Los Angeles and has trained in a variety of interventions including Trauma-Focused Cognitive Behavioral Therapy, the Attachment, Regulation, and Competency (ARC) model, Collaborative Problem-Solving, couples and family therapy, Trust-Based Relational Intervention, and Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing (EMDR).

Speaker Disclosure:

Financial: Robert Lusk is an adjunct assistant professor at Illinois Wesleyan University. He has an employment relationship with The Baby Fold. Dr. Lusk receives a speaking honorarium from PESI, Inc.

Non-financial: Robert Lusk has no relevant non-financial relationship to disclose.

Objectives

1. Identify the strategies to avoid common pitfalls clinicians may encounter when formulating a trauma diagnosis.
2. Explain the impact of trauma on the brain and behavior for the purpose of client psychoeducation.
3. Analyze how to resolve the disconnect that sometimes exists between evidence-based treatments and the real lives of survivors.
4. Determine the process for applying psychological first aid to ensure safety for clients who have experienced trauma.
5. Apply a flexible conceptual framework to trauma treatment that is sensitive to clients' needs across several critical domains.
6. Utilize strategies to assist caregivers of young trauma clients with issues of emotional control, attunement, and discipline.
7. Implement a variety of treatment exercises and grounding techniques to help clients develop emotional regulation skills.
8. Integrate cognitive behavioral strategies to transition problematic thoughts of clients into more adaptive, helpful thinking patterns.
9. Evaluate the effectiveness of various trauma treatment strategies used through the three stages of trauma recovery.
10. Incorporate play-based and verbal techniques to assist clients in developing their trauma narrative.
11. Choose appropriate strategies to help clients prepare for future safety issues and trauma triggers.
12. Create a treatment plan for building resiliency in clients to facilitate posttraumatic growth and meaningful recovery.

Trauma Treatment Toolbox:

165 Brain-Changing Tips, Tools & Handouts to Move Therapy Forward

By Jennifer Sweeton, Psy.D., M.S., M.A.

The latest research from neuroscience and psychotherapy has shown we can rewire the brain to facilitate trauma recovery. Trauma Treatment Toolbox teaches clinicians how to take that brain-based approach to trauma therapy, showing how to effectively heal clients’ brains with straightforward, easy-to-implement treatment techniques. Each tool includes a short list of post trauma symptoms, relevant research, application, and clinician tips on how to complete the exercise.

Somatic Psychotherapy Toolbox

125 Worksheets and Exercises to Treat Trauma & Stress

By Manuela Mischke-Reeds, MA, MFT

From over 25 years of clinical experience, Manuela Mischke-Reeds, MA, LMFT, has created the go-to resource for mental health therapists who want to incorporate somatic techniques into their daily practice. Highly-effective for clients dealing with trauma and stress disorders, somatic psychotherapy is the future of healing the entire person-body and mind.
